

Winger N Waves Cruise

21 October to 28 October 2018

On the cruise we had 34 wingers. Folks from all over Texas and beyond. Fun was had by all. The dieting starts after the cruise is done. Liberty of the Seas was the Ship, and what a ship it is.

It was a 7 day cruise. First 2 days at sea headed to Roatan. Next we visited Belize City and on the 5 day we were in Cozumal Mexico. Then one day at sea and back in Galveston. For any of you afraid of getting sea sick you could hardly tell you were on a ship.

Johnny and Darlene tried to keep us in line and up to date with what was going on. I guess it was a lot like herding cats. On our last day at sea (headed back to Galveston) we had a 60's / 70's party. Many of the folks got into the action and dressed up for the occasion. (see below).

I think Sam and Anita really are a throwback to the 60's (or maybe they never grew up)

Alvalin and Jim were always partying

Tom & Dawn,

John & Wanda

Randy Kathy

Dawn and Tom Dancing

Scott and Judy

Marge could really cut a rug and finally got Tommy Up to dance

Some folk just enjoyed the music.

In Rotan a group of us got into a vehicle and toured the island. My favorite stop was the chocolate factory. You know real coco is good for you, so everyone got some.

John and Wanda celebrated their wedding anniversary on the ship.

You never know what art you might you might find in your room at night.

On the final night the waiting staff paid a tribute to Texas. Everyone that could, stood.

Ships passing in the night

From Sprague's: Over all I was a bit apprehensive at taking a cruise. The US Navy supplied me with a lot of cruises. All of them were under the ocean. Fortunate all of them resulted in the ability to come to the surface. I have to admit I had a great time and I am seriously thinking of maybe doing another cruise, as long as there is not a diving alarm included and we stay surfaced.

From Reese's: We have been on 5 cruises prior to this one - Panama Canal, Caribbean (twice), Mediterranean, and Alaska. This was our first on Royal Caribbean and one of the things we enjoyed the most was having lots of friends on board. Everyone did their own thing during the day but we always gathered together at dinner and had an opportunity to catch up.

We chose not to do excursions on this cruise found our own fun in each port. In Roatan, our Texas group rented a taxi and tour guide for the day. Highlights were the Cameo Factory, the Chocolate Factory and the Rum Cake Factory. In Belize, we shopped at the port, and in Cozumel we took a cab downtown and found a great restaurant and frozen drink specialist.

Entertainment on board was very good and I particularly enjoyed the comedians. We both enjoy cruising and I am certain we will do another in the future.

There were two dress up nights for dinner. It looks like Jim and Tom were coordinated

Tom gave the wave machine on the ship a work out

In Cozumel Randy found a frozen drink
Brain Freeze

OK this is a bit over board on frozen drinks. Cozumel must be the frozen drink capital of the world

Docked in Cozumel
The ships look to be leaning together

Randy & Kathy preparing for dinner

Kathy was good at capturing a selfie in Cozumel.

The ship entertainment was really good. A group of us usually sat together.

Dinner time and nobody left the table hungry. Service was excellent and food superb .

In total there were 34 Goldwing guest aboard the cruise. I did not hear one complaint from the group.
